

What we do:

The Idaho Juvenile Justice Commission (IJJC) is a State Advisory Group responsible for performing duties required by the federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act pertaining to the detention, arrest, and status of youth in the justice system. All members are appointed by the Governor.

The Youth Committee works in partnership with the IJJC in order to help facilitate change and improve Idaho's juvenile justice system.

IJJC YOUTH COMMITTEE

Youth are agents of change that have the power to impact the world. From our unique experiences to our fast reaches of social networking and our ever-evolving nature with technology, youth are powerful forces to be reckoned with.

We as the Idaho Juvenile Justice Commission's Youth Committee have a passion to not only serve but to assist and advance Juvenile Justice reform across the state of Idaho.

We believe empowered youth can empower other youth to create social change.

The Youth Committee helps identify issues within the juvenile justice system and seek solutions that will benefit youth in Idaho.
