States shared how they implemented their programs. Some attendees participated in a healing circle for Restorative Justice where race was never spoken. Reviewing data, the most common "place of occurrence" was at school. Participants suggested holding court in the schools. This would require a change at the legislative level. Idaho hopes to partner with the SRO's in the schools 	Hakim Hazim Judge O Marissa Evans
5.	Youth Committee Update	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> All members were present Guest, Tedd McDonald, spoke on Youth Voice Survey. Findings-data is close to national trends. Advise is to go into the community and hand out food and start talking. Ask what they need. Maybe as simple as we need stop signs and sidewalks to keep our kids safe while they play outside. Our timeline should match the community's. Statewide training could be close to $50,000, but numbers have not been crunched.	Members
